

“Free Talking Hour”

... Are You Worried? Confused? We're Here to Help!

Life in graduate school can be confusing and difficult. If you have a problem, please don't feel that you are all alone. Stop by the monthly “Free Talking Hour.” It is scheduled at 12:15-13:15 on the following days, the staff in charge is usually in the Conference Room on the 5th floor, just across the elevator hall. In case of a change to an online talking hour, there will be a notice.

Harassment Consultation Desk

If you feel you have been harassed in any way, we encourage you to consult a counselor at the Harassment Consultation Desk. You may also talk to the staff at “Inclusive Campus and Health Care Centre”. Whatever the problem is, you should not take it all on yourself. Your privacy is ensured when using the services listed above. For Harassment Consultation Desk, please visit:

<https://www.kobe-u.ac.jp/info/project/harassment/index.html> (in Japanese)

Harassment counselling staff within GSICS for 2023 are the three members of the GSICS Student and Employment Affairs Committee, as well as Prof. Kan KIMURA and Prof. Jun MATSUNAMI.

Advice Service for International Students

There is an Advice Service for International students at the International Student Center (KISC, <http://www.kisc.kobe-u.ac.jp/english/>). In the counseling room within the KISC, full-time teaching staff will listen and give advice to international students with problems arising in their study at Kobe University and daily life in Japan. Counseling covers a wide range of issues, including administrative procedures, relations with teaching staff, scholarships, tuition fees, accommodation, immigration and residence procedures, family issues and health.

You are not alone!

When you feel like crying and don't know what to do, talk to...

- Your academic adviser
- Your tutor/former tutor
gsics-talking-hour[at]edu.kobe-u[dot]ac[dot]jp
- Your friends & classmates
- Check GSICS Guidebook, HP

Feeling sick?

Try going to the Medical Center for Student Health on the first floor of the administration bldg. It's free!

I need a phone or internet; I have to look for an apartment; I need a bank account! These are all important problems, especially at first. Your tutor or a classmate can help you. Try the GSICS website and also this link:

<http://www.kobe-u.ac.jp/en/campuslife/index.html>

For KU internet check: <http://www.istc.kobe-u.ac.jp/>. (In Japanese only).

I want to go away for fieldwork; I need a scholarship; I need money NOW! I want a leave of absence! You can find a lot of answers in the GSICS Guidebook or on the GSICS website: <http://www.gsics.kobe-u.ac.jp/en/students/index.html>

What classes should I take? Am I doing well enough? Is my research topic good enough? I'm not sure about it anymore. Everyone else is so much smarter and better than me. I don't know how to do a presentation or know how to approach my research. My sensei doesn't listen. There's a typhoon coming!

Most students feel this way at some point. Often it helps to talk it over with other students or your tutor or contact GSICS-consult. The library staff will help you look for specific kinds of materials. And your academic adviser will help you. It is important to try on your own, but it is also important to ask your professor for help when you need it. The GSICS Guidebook and GSICS website are useful, too.

I want to be independent, but everything is in Japanese!

Do you need help reading your bills, bank statement, immigration office info, etc.? Don't understand the system? Ask your tutor if you have one, or try to make a Japanese friend. It is sometimes hard to ask, but most people will try to help you, or suggest a place where you can get help. Maybe there is something you can do to help your friend, too.

Feeling sad? Worried? Can't sleep or eat?

You can stop by the monthly GSICS Free Talking Hour or make an appointment with gsics-talking-hour[at]edu.kobe-u[dot]ac[dot]jp. Counseling for international students is available from the Center for International Education! Or you can go to the Inclusive Campus and Health Care Centre for help in English or Japanese. Of course, you can talk with your academic adviser or other faculty. Often your classmates or senior students are happy to help, too.

I'm being harassed! I'm afraid to talk about it! Talk to Free Talking Hour, GSICS-consult, or a faculty or staff person. Kobe University has a system to help you. Your privacy will be respected. See:
