

Notice of Changes to the Entrance Examination for the Master's Course (Special Course For Development Policy in Master's Course)

The entrance examination for the Graduate School of International Cooperation Studies, Kobe University for the admission in the 2027 academic year (to be conducted from March to April 2027) will be changed as follows.

Change in Admission Process and Interview

【After】

Admission Process and Result	Admission decision will be made based on the application documents and the results of the interview. Applicants who passed the document screening will be contacted with the date and time of the interview, which will be conducted online. On the date of the announcement of results, the results will be announced and an official letter will be available. No telephone inquiries will be accepted.
------------------------------	---

【Before】

Admission Process and Result	Admission decisions will be made based on the submitted application. On the date of the announcement of results, the results will be posted on the GSICS website and an official letter be sent. No telephone inquiries will be accepted.
------------------------------	---